The national security initiative, based on Neighbourhood Watch, will operate a command centre in Canberra to take tip-offs from the public. Anti-bullying tips from youth beyond blue:

- Ignore the person who is bullying you (including contact with him/her via mobile phone or email) – bullies are looking for a reaction and often lose interest if they don't get one.
- Stay with others – stick to areas where you feel safe and hang out with people you trust. The person who is bullying you won't pick on you as much when there are other people around.
- Stay positive and be confident – think of all the things you do well and try not to let the bullying affect your confidence.
- Keep out of the bully's way – it might be possible for you to avoid the person who is bullying you, for example by travelling a different way to school, or avoiding the places that he/she hangs out.
- Don't reply to bullying messages – it'll only get worse if you do. By replying, the bully gets what he or she wants. Often if you don't reply, the person will leave you alone.
- Ask for help – if the bullying doesn't stop, you might find it helpful to ask someone else for advice. You should also report it to someone in charge – either at school or at work.

Remember:

- Everyone has the right to live, work, study and play in an environment free from bullying, harassment, discrimination and violence. No one deserves or asks to be bullied.
- Reporting bullying or asking for help, does not mean you are giving in to a bully. It's about looking after yourself and making sure you feel happier and more comfortable.
- If you feel no one believes you or is taking you seriously, it doesn't mean that your feelings aren't valid or the bullying should continue. It's important you tell someone else and continue to do so until you are helped.

Following the unfortunate experience of an East Wahroonga resident: Don't ignore your dog barking! The residents were happily watching tv together when their dog barked persistently. They shouted at it to shut up. Unfortunately the dog was warning its owners of the thief who had let himself into the house through the unlocked front door, stolen valuables, then left. If only they had responded to their dog differently...

August 14th: NSW Fair Trading Minister Anthony Roberts is warning consumers to be wary if purchasing extended warranties on products and services. Mr Roberts reminded consumers that if purchasing an extended warranty, to make sure they are getting protection above and beyond those guarantees already provided by Australian Consumer Law (ACL). Mr Roberts said the ACL already gives people free protection and ensures goods and services must be of an acceptable quality, free from defects and fit for purpose. Consumers have the right to a remedy, including repairs or replacement, if goods or services fail to meet a consumer guarantee. "People often underestimate their rights at law and may be convinced of the need to buy an extended warranty when they don't actually need one," he said. "Consumers have the right to a remedy, including repairs or replacement, if goods or services fail to meet a consumer guarantee."

August 15th: 'Global Roll' - a world-first charity initiative set to span five continents, twelve countries and 50,000km. All the best to the Wallabies! We'll be proudly cheering you on.

[The '#' symbol in front of #BledisloeCup is a 'hashtag' used in 'Twitter'. It is used to mark keywords or topics in a Tweet. It was created organically by Twitter users as a way to categorize messages. People use the hashtag symbol # before a relevant keyword or phrase (no spaces) in their Tweet to categorize those Tweets and help them show more easily in Twitter Search. Clicking on a hashtagged word in any message shows you all other Tweets marked with that keyword.]

WANTED BY POLICE: Jeffrey McKELLAR

Police are appealing for public assistance to locate a man who is wanted over an alleged sexual assault in the state's west. Jeffrey Thomas McKellar, 36, is wanted on two first instance arrest warrants. In 2010 police from Darling River Local Area Command charged McKellar over the alleged sexual assault of a woman in Bourke in 1996. He was placed on bail but failed to appear for the trial at Dubbo District Court on Monday (13 August 2012).

He's described as being of Aboriginal/ Torres Strait Islander appearance, 171cm tall, of medium build and about 80kg. He has short black hair and brown eyes. McKellar is known to frequent the New South Wales towns of Wentworth, Dareton and Bourke, as well as Mildura and Geelong in Victoria. Members of the public urged not to approach him but to contact Triple Zero (000) immediately if they believe they have seen him.

Anyone with information about his whereabouts can also contact Crime Stoppers on 1800 333 000.

On Saturday: Did you just see Westleigh 1 Bravo responding through Westleigh? They were responded to reports of a fire in the Westleigh Quarry just off the Timbarra Fire Trail. They found a large camp fire, extinguished it and have just returned to station.

On Sunday: A crew from Westleigh will be participating in a Hazard Reduction burn tomorrow (Monday 20 August 2012). It's location will be Berowra Valley Regional Park, between Gum Leaf Close, Binya Close to Calna Creek and Benowie Walking Track, Hornsby Heights. Smoke will be visible in the local area. Only call Triple Zero (000) if you see unattended fire. PREPARE. ACT. SURVIVE.

Another picture from hazard reduction burns being undertaken in Sydney's north today. Do you recognise this location? This was once the ranger headquarters from a very famous Australian television show. Photo by: Bernie O'Rourke NSWRFSS.

August 15th: NSW Police have been handed the keys to a brand new 9 tonne BearCat as part of the national counterterrorism funding. The armoured rescue vehicle - our second BearCat - will contribute to capability and keeping our officers safe. It is used throughout the world by law enforcement agencies due to the high level of protection it offers. See the video here: <http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=WAl1OxrLKio&feature=em-uploademail>

Another from our Castle Cove NHW neighbours: Find out why speed cameras work? See where speed cameras are currently located. Have your say about where you think speed cameras should be on NSW Roads: Visit the Safer Roads website at www.saferroadsnsw.com.au.

Helpful hints #53: Did you know that if you invite someone into your home and they steal an item, that you are probably not insured? Always chose your tradesperson, not them chose you! Check their references.
